The Legacy Project Mentor Guide
The Legacy Project

The Legacy Project is a program at Advocates for Children CASA established in 2006. While many of participating youth are or have been involved in the foster care system, the truancy system or the judicial system, systems involvement is not an eligibility requirement for participation. Youth in the Legacy Project are 13 to 23 and need support in becoming self-sufficient adults. The Legacy Project trains and supports Mentor Volunteers who provide young adults with one-on-one mentoring, the acquisition of life skills, goal setting support and resource navigation within the community.

In addition to one-on-one mentoring, the Legacy Project facilitates life skills meetings and outings offering peer-to-peer group support and experiential learning. Throughout the year, the Legacy Project will host a variety of speakers who educate our youth on topics from financial literacy to personal rights to career opportunities.

Our program is designed to facilitate an individualized learning plan for youth with the help of a Mentor Volunteer covering six key program areas: permanency and relationships, health and self-care, education and career, housing and money management, daily life skills and self-sufficiency and self-esteem and self-efficacy.

The Legacy Project Objective

Our objective is to inspire confidence, motivation and self-reliance to at-risk youth through the caring, supportive network of Legacy Mentors, peers and trained staff.

The Role of a Mentor Volunteer

The Legacy Mentor works closely with an assigned Legacy Youth to: address his/her specific needs; assist with services and resources to benefit the youth; monitor and support the youth’s progress towards identified goals; provide emotional support and encouragement to develop self-efficacy; mentor and help youth with developing life skills to navigate adulthood.

All of this is accomplished by utilizing the expertise and assistance of the Legacy Project Lead Coordinator and by following this Mentor Guide filled with topics to cover under each category, community resources to assist and activities and worksheets to help facilitate learning.

Statistics show that youth without at least three identified caring adults are less likely to be successful in adulthood. Thank you for your time and dedication to becoming a caring adult for a youth within The Legacy Project!

Dozens of teens have shared intimate stories about the pressures they face and explained what they’d like to see change. They describe everything from intense academic pressure to social pressure to look a certain way to school shootings — even as they figure out who they’re supposed to be. Over the next few months, CPR News will untangle the factors that have created the ultimate pressure cooker for some teens. We’ll go into their world through audio diaries, interviews, reflection and analysis. Most importantly, we’ll examine what teens, families and schools can do to let some of the pressure loose.

Chafee:
The Chafee Foster Care Independence Program (CFCIP) was created to assist youth in successfully emancipating from the foster care system, and to provide ongoing support to young adults as they overcome the hurdles of living independently. They help with finding educational programs, financial aid, housing, employment, and the acquisition of life skills. We do this by meeting with youth in the community, one-to-one independent living skills training, connecting youth to resources in their community and encouraging clients to set and pursue goals for success.

BACA
Bikers Against Child Abuse, Inc. (B.A.C.A.) exists with the intent to create a safer environment for abused children. We exist as a body of Bikers to empower children to not feel afraid of the world in which they live. We stand ready to lend support to our wounded friends by involving them with an established, united organization. We work in conjunction with local and state officials who are already in place to protect children. We desire to send a clear message to all involved with the abused child that this child is part of our organization, and that we are prepared to lend our physical and emotional support to them by affiliation, and our physical presence. We stand at the ready to shield these children from further abuse. We do not condone the use of violence or physical force in any manner, however, if circumstances arise such that we are the only obstacle preventing a child from further abuse, we stand ready to be that obstacle.

Dream Makers Project
Dream Makers supports older youth who are at risk of aging out or who have already aged out of foster care system. Every year, 23,000 teens age out of the foster care system without a family to call their own. These are children who have been removed from their biological families, due to no fault of their own, but rather having experienced neglect or abuse. These youth are left without a loving support system or resources to help them reach their full potential. When you become a Dream Maker, you have the opportunity to let one of these youth know that someone cares and they are not alone. Your support can give them the confidence they need to help change their future.

2-1-1 Colorado
Colorado 2-1-1 is a simple and easy-to-remember number and website that people can access when they need help or want to give help. Often, people don’t know where to go for help… or that help is available. People don’t know that emergency food and shelter assistance is available, childcare is accessible for low- and middle-income families, after-school programs offer a safe place for youth, and more. And, if you have heard of a service, but can’t remember where it is, how do you find out? 2-1-1 is your community solution. The three-digit number is easy to remember and provides a direct link to non-emergency help for health and human services.

Interviewing Skills

- Give a firm handshake
- Sit up straight
- Use eye contact
- Dress in more formal, clean and ironed apparel
- Engage in polite conversation (Being more formal than you are with your friends)
- Ask relevant questions
- Answer questions in a complete yet concise manner
- Use specific examples to illustrate points
- Send a “Thank you” letter or email to the interviewer after your interview
- Do not control the interview
- Do not bring up salary or benefits
- Do not act too serious or nervous
- Do not let your discouragement or disappointment show
- Do not look at your watch or the clock repeatedly

Common Interview Questions

Here are some frequently asked questions and tips on answering them. Remember to be prepared!

Practice answering these questions with a friend prior to your interview.

1. Tell me about yourself. Answering this gives the interviewer insight into how you may fit into the organization. Do not talk about personal information. If you are unsure what information the interviewer is interested in, you could ask, “Are there any areas in particular you’d like to know about?”

2. Briefly describe your professional experience and background. The interviewer is trying to learn about who you are in the context of work.

3. What is your biggest weakness? Choose something that is not a major flaw or negative characteristic, you do not want to shock the interviewer or make them think you are not a good candidate for the job. Most importantly, do not say something negative about yourself and leave it at that, turn it into a positive! Describe how you were able to overcome this weakness and a positive way the situation turned out. Show that you have grown as a person, and how a slightly negative characteristic is now a positive attribute that you can bring to this new position. Whenever possible, use specific situations from your life to illustrate your point.

4. What is your biggest strength?

5. How will your strengths help you do well with this company? This is not an opportunity to brag. Instead, you need to describe why you are the best person for the job. Give a specific example of your strength, what it has helped you accomplish in past work roles, and how it will be beneficial to your performance if you get this job.
Interviewing Skills

6. Where do you hope to be five years from now? Bottom line, the interviewer wants to know that you want to work for them. They do not want to hear that you plan on going to another company or field of work. Even if you do plan on keeping your options open, this may turn the interviewer off. Instead, focus your answer on new skills you hope to learn and master, and how you plan to use them in order to benefit the business’ goals. Even if you want to get another job later on, do not say something like, “I want to work here to gain experience to someday open my own business.”

7. What is your greatest accomplishment? Be sure to give specific examples from school and your community including how you overcame obstacles and of leadership opportunities you experienced. This gives the interviewer a better understanding of this accomplishment. If you just graduated from high school, college or tech school, describe an accomplishment from your school work, part-time job, internship or extra-curricular activities.

8. Why do you want to work for this company? You will always want to do research on the company before the interview. This is where your research on the company will be helpful. Perhaps they are innovative in a specific field and that is what makes you want to join the team? What are their goals, and how can your skills and past experiences help achieve them? Give specific reasons, don’t speak in generalities.

The following are some additional questions that might come up in an interview:

9. Are you a nice person?
10. How would you describe yourself?
11. Describe a typical work week for you currently.
12. Describe your work style.
13. Do you work well with other people?
14. Do you take work home with you?
15. How many hours do you normally work?
16. How would you describe the pace at which you work?
17. How do you handle stress and pressure?
18. What motivates you?
19. Are you a self-motivator?
20. What are your salary expectations?
21. What do you find are the most difficult decisions to make?
22. Why did you choose to interview with this company?
23. What has been the greatest disappointment in your life?
24. What are you passionate about?
25. What are your pet peeves?
26. What do people most often criticize about you?
27. What is the worst thing that you have ever gotten away with?
28. When was the last time you were angry? What happened?
29. If you could relive the last 3 years of your life, what would you do differently?
Interviewing Skills

30. If the people who know you were asked why you should be hired, what would they say?
31. Do you prefer to work independently or on a team?
32. Give some examples of teamwork.
33. What type of work environment do you prefer?
34. How do you evaluate success?
35. If you know your boss is 100% wrong about something, how would you handle it?
36. Describe a difficult work situation/project and how you overcame it.
37. Describe a time when your workload was heavy and how you handled it.
38. What interests you about this job?
39. Why do you want this job?
40. What applicable attributes/experience do you have?
41. Are you under or overqualified for this job?
42. What can you do for this company?
43. Why should we hire you?
44. Why are you the best person for the job?
45. What do you know about this company?
46. Why do you want to work here?
47. What challenges are you looking for in a position?
48. What can you contribute to this company?
49. What do you see yourself doing within the first 30 days on the job?
50. What would you do if you found out the company was doing something illegal?
51. Are you willing to travel?
52. What is good customer service?
53. How long do you expect to remain employed with this company?
54. Please rate me as an interviewer.
55. Is there anything I haven’t told you about the job or company that you would like to know?

Common Interview Questions: The Future

56. What are you looking for in your next job? What is important to you?
57. Where do you see yourself 5 years from now?
58. What are your goals for the next five years/ten years?
59. How do you plan to achieve those goals?
60. What are your salary requirements - both short-term and long-term?
61. What are your career goals?
62. What will you do if you don’t get this position?
63. Where else are you interviewing?

How to Keep a Job

Once you get the job, the next task is to be sure you keep it.

1. Be on time. Be on time for work, returning from breaks, going to meetings, or turning in assignments.
2. Dress appropriately. Always utilize good grooming habits.
3. Call and let the boss know if you will be late or absent.
4. Give your best, finish assignments and meet or exceed expectations.
5. Anticipate the needs of others.
6. Have a positive attitude and “Can Do” spirit.
7. Ask for help when needed. Know your limitations.
8. Avoid backstabbing or office gossip. Always be respectful.
9. Be a team player. Look for opportunities to serve customers or co-workers.
10. Be a leader. Look for opportunities to show that you can be trusted.
11. Avoid criticizing your boss or the company. It is easy to find things wrong with others. It is much harder, but more rewarding, to find constructive ways to deal with problems. Employees who are known for their good attitude and helpful suggestions are the ones most often remembered during performance evaluation and raise review time.
12. Volunteer for trainings and new assignments. Take a close look at people in your organization who are “moving up”. Chances are, they are the ones who have shown themselves willing to do undesirable assignments or take on new responsibilities.
13. Avoid the temptation to criticize your company, co-workers, or customers on the Internet. Social networking sites offer many opportunities to share with the world, but what you place on the Internet is public forever.
14. Be a good team member. Put the team and the company first.
15. Try to avoid ever saying “that’s not my job.” Distinguish yourself. Pick out one or more things in your job to do better than anyone else. Become known as the “go-to” person for such things. That will help managers remember you favorably at times when you really need to be remembered.
